

SOUTH RICHMOND

MICHAEL FOLEY'S BRAVERY
MAY WIN CARNEGIE MEDAL

Movement on Foot to Secure Recognition for Man Who Saved Life of William Burgess.

ADDRESS ON TEMPERANCE

J. A. Maples, of Mississippi, Speaks at Meeting Under Auspices of Swansboro Churches—Rev. MacLachlan, D. D., Preaches To-Night.

For bravery in rescuing a fellow-workman from drowning, a movement is on foot to secure a Carnegie medal for Michael Foley, of 135 Holland Street. Berry L. Payne, a contractor; Edward R. Mitchell, a city water inspector; and William T. Dixon, a foreman of the city water works, are preparing a petition to present to the Carnegie Commission.

Foley saved William Burgess, who was employed in laying a water pipe at the south end of the Free Bridge, about five months ago. Burgess fell from a rowboat attached to a barge in which was boiler and a gang of workmen and Inspector Mitchell and Contractor Payne. His head struck the side of the boat when he rolled into the water, rendering him partially unconscious.

When he heard of the accident, Foley was on the north side of the river. Guiding a rowboat with difficulty through the locks he reached the man's side just in time to save him.

Temperance Rally.
J. A. Maples, of Mississippi, made a stirring address on prohibition last night at the temperance rally held under the auspices of the churches of Swansboro in the tent at the corner of Broad, Rock, and Hull Streets. Several selections were rendered by a choir from the churches.

Rev. H. D. MacLachlan, D. D., pastor of Seventh Street Christian Church, will preach on the liquor question last night at 8 o'clock in the Bainbridge Street Baptist Church. Congregations from all the South Richmond churches will unite in the service.

Wed in Washington.
Announcement was made yesterday of the wedding of Miss Gertrude Beatrice Ferris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ferris, of 112 East Tenth Street, and Emmett Cox, also of South Richmond, who were married on Tuesday in Washington, D. C. News of the marriage came as a surprise to the many friends of the couple, who are well-known on the Southside.

War Fund Contributions.
Many contributions are being received by E. K. Victor, German consul, for the relief of the wounded and widows and orphans of German soldiers, caused by the war. An official receipt is given for the money, which is forwarded as soon as possible to Germany.

General News Notes.
The Fellowship League of Central Methodist Church will hold its regular meeting to-night in the church. Football games are being organized in Forest Hill and Woodland Heights. There is much rivalry between the two sections, and some interesting games are expected at the close of the season.

The automobile tour held on Tuesday night under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of Meade Memorial Episcopal Church proved successful. The holding fund of the tour, to which the money received was added, was considerably increased.

Manchester Lodge, No. 845, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will hold its regular meeting to-night.

POLICE HOUNDING UP WILMINGTON TIGERS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WILMINGTON, N. C., September 15.—Not only have the authorities become exceedingly active on gamblers, but the police are busy rounding up the "tigers." The police on Tuesday made a sortie on a den located along the water front and there nabbed the proprietress, Carrie Simmons, colored. The woman was charged with selling whiskey, and the charge was proven beyond doubt, so the recorder gave her a straight road's sentence of one year.

PETERSBURG

ADJOURNED MEETING OF COUNCIL IS HELD

Ostensibly to Wind Up Unfinished Business, but Talkfest Is Engaged In.

VERY LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED

Famous River Street Improvement Again Passed By—Mayor's Veto of Street-Stand Ordinance Is Sustained.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, Va., September 16.—An adjourned meeting of the Common Council was held last night ostensibly for the purpose of winding up the unfinished business of the regular session of the first day of the month. But really more talking was done than business transacted. The famous River Street improvement, which has so long been in contemplation, was again passed by because the matter is in the hands of a committee for report. The paving work on West High and Fifth Streets, which had been ordered stopped because of some question involving the contract, was after long discussion ordered to proceed. The sum of $102 erroneously assessed as taxes against the American Electric Tool Company was directed to be refunded. The Mayor's veto of the ordinance relative to stands on the sidewalk for the sale or display of merchandise, and the parking of vehicles near the intersection of Steamers and Bank Streets was sustained. An ordinance providing a bond issue for the erection of the proposed municipal building was referred to the Finance Committee, and the report of the committee relative to the location of the proposed concrete bridge over the Appomattox River, which will cost about $52,000 and plans for which have been prepared and approved, was laid over. A great deal of time was consumed in the discussion of several of these matters.

Councilman W. A. Baxter and L. W. Brown were appointed on the committee on Public Improvement. The present Council is practically under new control, the members of the old regime having been retired to the rear.

Death of a Chesterfielder.
William H. Chesterfield, a prominent and widely known citizen of Chesterfield, died last evening at his home in that city, after an illness of about two weeks. He was 77 years old, was born in the town of Chesterfield, and was a Confederate Veteran, having served throughout the war in the Thirtieth Virginia Cavalry. His wife, who was Mrs. Julia G. Andrews, of Petersburg; Mrs. Lida D. Parlin, Mrs. Mollie V. Anderson, Mrs. Ella P. Vaughan, Mrs. Grace W. Dixon, Walker, Jr., Mrs. E. Allison, Lillian and Gofre Perkins, of Chesterfield.

Mr. Perkins was the grandfather of 29 children, 25 of whom are living, and the great grandfather of 5 children. The burial will be in the family cemetery.

Miss Gertrude B. Pulley, aged twenty years, died yesterday afternoon at her home in Ettrick, after an illness of several months.

Increasing Values.
The taxicab values in Petersburg are steadily increasing, and the city is a solid and satisfactory basis, due to the wise management of its financial affairs. The increase in land values since 1912 was about 200,000, while the increase in personal property values for the year last year was nearly $900,000.

Personal and Otherwise.
Lieutenant Benjamin McCandlish, U. S. A., and wife are now on their way home from Manila, to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Roper and Miss Nan Roper will return home this week after spending the summer in Maine.

The Petersburg bright tobacco market this season will attract representatives of many of the large tobacco companies of the country.

A large number of young men and women left this week to enter the various universities and colleges of the country as students for the coming season.

Mrs. Archibald McCrea, of New York, accompanied by her mother-in-law, Mrs. McCrea, arrived in the city today, on their way to the former's country home in Brunswick County.

Misses Susie Whyte and Mary Paul Roper have returned from Maine, where they spent the summer.

The speakers at the mass-meeting to be held Friday night in the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Wide World League, have not yet been announced. It is understood, however, that they will be men of local prominence.

The Petersburg district conference of the A. M. E. Zion Connection, which met at the chancel steps by the bridegroom and his best man, Dr. Walker Washington, of New York, a brother of the bridegroom, Miss Elizabeth W. C. Latane, was her sister's maid-of-honor. The four bridesmaids were Misses Fannie Dume, Mary Boyden, Grace Greenleaf, and Emily Pendleton. The ushers were Dr. Frank Hester, of George Taylor, of Washington; James Latane, a brother of the bride, and Lawrence Washington, Jr., a cousin of the bride and bridegroom.

Dr. Washington and his bride are both of distinguished families, and are widely known, not only in their own state, but in many parts of the country. The bride is a daughter of the late Rev. Wm. C. Latane, and a granddaughter of the late John E. Wilson, of Wakefield, Westmoreland County. The groom has for several years resided in Washington, D. C., but has decided to reside in the future at his former home "Claymont" near Oak Grove, Va. Among the guests from a distance were Dr. Frank Hester, Washington, D. C.; Miss Mary Burke, Kentucky; Mr. Thomas Washington, Caroline County, Va.; Mrs. M. S. Sale, Essex County, Va.; Miss Mary Campbell, Danville, Va.; Miss Mary Boyden, New Market, Va.; Miss Fannie Dunn, Nortonville, Va.; and Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Washington, Lynchburg, Va. Dr. and Mrs. Walker Washington, New York, and many from adjoining counties.

Two men—Hobson.
APPOMATTOX, Va., September 16.—The marriage of Dr. D. S. Twyman, of this place, and Miss Annie Hobson, of Brookneal, took place yesterday at the bride's home, in Campbell County. Miss Hobson for many years was one of the members of the faculty of the Appomattox Agricultural High School.

Approaching Marriage.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
EAST LEAK, Va., September 16.—Mrs. R. H. True has announced the marriage of her daughter, Minnie M., to Edwin M. Jordan, of Tabernott, on September 23, in Richmond. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. J. T. Hundley, pastor of the Forest Grove Christian Church.

SILENT CAMPAIGN

MADE IN BRISTOL

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BRISTOL, Va., September 16.—Interest is becoming intense as the date for the election on the question of State-wide prohibition draws near. The meeting is a silent campaign. Not a single public meeting has been held, and just what the plan of the State-wide advocates is to get the vote out is not known. Two or three sermons have been preached on the subject here, and this is the extent of the public efforts to arouse the voters. The local press has daily published pleas in favor of the State-wide prohibition. The men who stand for a continuance of the license system are equally silent as to methods, but are understood to be very active.

CHIEF OF POLICE CAMPBELL

IS MURDERED BY NEGRO

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BRISTOL, Va., September 16.—Chief of Police George Campbell, of Johnson City, for twenty years at the head of the police force there, was shot down by a negro desperado, near the business centre to-day. The negro, who had just come to Johnson City, was drunk and causing trouble in his home. His wife asked Chief Campbell to quiet him. When the chief appeared at the front door, the negro shot him through the head with a Winchester rifle. Rushing through the door, with gun in hand, the negro pressed a white drayman into service under threat of death. The drayman carried the negro to the nearest hospital before news of the killing spread. The local company of militia and the volunteer firemen were called out, and soon had the negro surrounded. Compelled to surrender, he was hurried to Jonesboro to avoid a lynching.

Funeral—Heidin.
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., September 16.—Epworth, Embury and Mrs. May Heidin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Heidin, of Stafford County, were married yesterday at the home of the bride in this city. Dr. W. Ashbury Christian, of Richmond, performed the ceremony. Miss Alberta Templeman was maid of honor and Ernest Heidin acted as best man. They will make their home at Ruby.

Washington-Latane.
OAK GROVE, Va., September 15.—Seldom has so many guests been the scene of a more beautiful wedding than that which took place at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, when Miss Janet Latane, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Dr. Richard Washington, a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Walker Washington, Westmoreland County, the ceremony was performed by Rev. S. S. Ware, of Ft. Royal, in the presence of many relatives and guests from far and near. Charles Innes Williams played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party entered the church, and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

CHILDREN BARRED FROM

SCHOOLS BY NEGRO BLOOD

Court Holds That One-Sixteenth Is Sufficient to Prevent Attendance With White Children.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

RALEIGH, N. C., September 16.—Twenty-six opinions were delivered this afternoon by the Supreme Court. One of special public interest was J. S. Johnson vs. The Wilson County Board of Education, involving the right of Johnson's four children to attend the public schools for white children in spite of the fact that the children had one-sixteenth negro blood. The Supreme Court reversed the lower court and held that these children, nor any others with any mixture of negro blood have any right to attend the schools for white children. The trial judge below held that since the State constitution legalized the marriage of a white man to a woman with one-eighth negro blood, the Legislature exceeded its authority in specifying that children of such parents could not attend the white schools.

The Supreme Court holds that the constitution did not intend to abolish any of the distinctions based on color and social relations as distinguished from purely political equality with which the constitution was dealing. All other cases decided are purely civil actions from the First and Second Districts.

Mrs. C. B. Hogan wishes to thank the friends in Richmond and Bedford for their kindness during the illness and at the death of her daughter. May God bless and reward them all.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS

MEET IN LAWRENCEVILLE

LAWRENCEVILLE, Va., September 16.—The Lawrenceville opera house was the scene yesterday of an enthusiastic reunion of Confederate veterans. The house was packed, and the corridors filled with those unable to get seats.

Commander James M. Flournoy, of the Brunswick Camp of Veterans, Inc., presided over the gathering. General Walker B. Freeman, brigadier-general of the State Camp, urged all Brunswick veterans to attend the unveiling of the equestrian statue of General Lee at Gettysburg next summer. He also suggested that the younger generation form a camp of the Sons of Confederate Veterans in the county.

General 8th, holding of Petersburg, was next introduced, and he made a stirring address to the veterans.

A big dinner was served by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the excellent band of the St. Paul's School for Negroes, played the stirring airs of the Confederacy. The Lawrenceville High School chorus sang a number of patriotic songs.
